

Title: Space Station Velocity

Genre: Futuristic Melodic Trap / Synth-Wave Hip-Hop

Vibe: High-octane, Atmospheric, and Success-driven

[Introduction]

(Deep, oscillating bass synths. The sound of a heavy engine idling. Distorted vocal echo: "Space coupe back out of the space station...")

Focused on the future, never on right now.

Wait for the signal... air traffic controls the landing.

It's lit!

[Verse 1: The Currency of Tomorrow]

I put an M in my bag, getting used to these racks.

VVS on the shirt, yeah, my Gucci is wet.

I get a check through the month, counting up a hun'.

Shining like the Sun, knowing I'm the chosen one.

My face on the dotted line, fuck that paper, baby.

The career is at stake, and the vision is hazy.

But I'm icing my team, yeah, we're locked in on one.

Going crazy in the spot until the morning Sun.

[Pre-Chorus: The Drive]

Driving too fast to stop, so I ignore every sign.

Visions and angles, they're perfectly tight.

Diamonds are the wife of life, sparkling bright.

We're taking the flight, no plans for the night.

[Chorus: The Velocity]

In the Space Coupe, drifting out the space station.

Houstonfornication, mind-new renovation.

Patek on the wrist, three Rollies look alike.

I'm on the pursuit of happiness, catching the light.

If it rises on the East, it's gonna land on the West.

Nobody can check me, I'm winning at chess.

[Verse 2: The Machine and the Maze]

I'm in a Ghost in the Lambo, doors going up.

Suicide style, yeah, I'm filling the cup.

Know the coupe is fast when it ends with an S.

Five hundred shoes for the drip, I invest.

Riding through the clouds, going through the vapors.

Trying to get the paper, stay out of the papers.

Life is just a maze, I'm just going through phases.

Space station status, yeah, we're changing the faces.

[Bridge: The Price of the Future]

Stop trying to be God, that's not who you are.

But I'm reaching for the nebula, becoming a star.

The party never ends, laying with my past sins.

But the future is a race where the Alchemist wins.

Will I survive the Rodeo? Que será, será.

I'm the youngest out of Houston, and I've come this far.

[Final Chorus]

In the Space Coupe, drifting out the space station.

Houstonfornication, mind-new renovation.

Patek on the wrist, three Rollies look alike.

I'm on the pursuit of happiness, catching the light.

If it rises on the East, it's gonna land on the West.

Nobody can check me, I'm winning at chess.

[Outro]

(Beat slows down, heavy reverb on the vocals)

Everything that shines ain't always gold....

But we're still on the move, can't shake the shade.
